We just celebrated my baby's 11th birthday Friday. Oh how quickly the years pass...and what a joy she has been to all of us!

This website has been sadly neglected, I'm afraid, but I'll try to do a better job of popping in to respond to any new members and offer prayer support! Life has been very busy with homeschooling and enjoying our growing family and other ministry opportunities.

Our family has added another grandbaby (a beautiful grandson who is now 7 months old!), and has another grandbaby on the way. Our oldest grandchild turns 12 in June. :)

I'm praying the Lord uses the testimonies and encouragements here to help any visitors to this site!
